Palanga

Palanga is a resort city in western Lithuania, located on the shore of the Baltic Sea. It is the largest summer resort in the country and is known for its sandy beaches and sand dunes.

Connection to Scouting

The founder of the Scout movement, Robert Baden-Powell, together with his wife Olave and 650 British Guides and Scouts, visited Palanga in August 1933. A street named after him was established in the city; today part of that street is called R. Baden-Powell Avenue. There is also a Scout Valley located in the Botanical Park.

Places of interest in Palanga:

- The Neo-Gothic Catholic Church
- The Museum of Amber located in the Tyszkiewicz Palace
- The Botanical Park surrounding the Palace and Scout valley
- Basanavičius Street in Palanga
- The Palanga sea pier

Transportation

The municipality is accessible by road from Klaipėda and Šiauliai. There is no railway within the municipality; the closest rail connection is in Kretinga, the capital of the Kretinga District Municipality. Palanga International Airport, the third largest in Lithuania, offers flights to Scandinavia, Germany, Ireland, the United Kingdom, Poland, and to the largest city in the Baltic States—Riga, Latvia.
